

At Random

Well, the Red Coats are arriving in ever-increasing numbers. Hope all will get their deer, BUT—

Please spare the does! We still feel that the opening of doe shooting for camp purpose is a GREAT MISTAKE.

Past experiences tell us that many people are shot during deer hunting seasons.

We approach this coming season with deep apprehension. Especially so since doe shooting is permitted.

Will it add to mortalities? We fear so. The season begins Saturday.

The Grangers observed Armistice day by serving one of their splendid dinners.

There was a big crowd present and good enough for all.

Pretty sloppy walking over the week end. Too much wet snow.

Mac reports a successful pro-winter sale.

Hess reveals Hitler secret! He says "Hitler wants to win the war." That's squealing on a pal!

Taxi-driver Smith gets "life imprisonment."

America again, thru the Red Cross, is feeding millions in conquered countries.

Regardless of any other issue, our job now is to win this war.

Injured In Auto Accidents

Hal Burris of Detroit and William Huddleston of Grayling got the worst of it when they attempted to assist two others who had wrecked their car when it crashed into several trees at the side of the highway, Saturday night. The accident happened about five miles south of Grayling on US-27.

Burris was slightly bruised while Huddleston suffered a fracture of the collar bone. The men had stopped to assist Willard Williams, who had received severe face lacerations and Burton McWilliams, who had leg bruises and a sprained ankle. Both are Roscommon young men, and their car was ditched when it struck a slippery spot on the highway. Just as Burris and Huddleston were helping one of the injured men into their car, another car driven by Duane Wainwright of Grayling, coming from the south, struck the Burris car, completely wrecking it and injuring the latter and Huddleston. A truck and a car following stopped to assist and there was a pile-up of five cars all told on the highway. Huddleston and McWilliams were taken to Mercy Hospital but were able to be dismissed the following day. Wainwright has been charged with reckless driving.

School Carnival Monday, Nov. 17

Plans are completed for the carnival to be held Monday, Nov. 17th at the high school. The doors will be opened at 7:15 o'clock. This event is sponsored by the Athletic Association and everything is being done to make this an event long to be remembered for old and young alike.

An abundance of games demanding skill will fill the gym floor. A prize pig will be given away to some lucky person and also someone will walk away

C. of C. Elects Directors

At the monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce the following were elected as directors:

Norman Butler
Ernie Borchers
Earl Burns
Frank Roth
George Granger
Amos Hunter
George Burke
Devere Dawson

The newly elected directors will meet at the Courthouse next Tuesday evening, November 18th, at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of organization, election of president and vice president, appointment of a secretary-treasurer and appointment of standing committees.

A Chamber of commerce is a very important organization for any progressive community and Grayling is fortunate in having this splendid local board. Much responsibility is placed upon the board of directors as well as the officers. They will function much better when they feel that the public is behind them in their efforts. They need our moral and active support as well as financial support.

The new officers will be elected next week. Let us get behind them and help to push Grayling forward and make this the best year of real community progress.

Well Known Resident Passed Away

Benjamin Ostrander, well known resident of Crawford county for 58 years, passed away at the home of his sister, Mrs. Katie Waldron Friday morning following a short illness, where he had made his home for the past six years.

Mr. Ostrander, who was well known in Grayling, was loved by all who knew him. He was a good friend and neighbor and always willing to lend a helping hand.

Benjamin Franklin Ostrander was born at Woodhull, Shiawassee county, Mich., April 17, 1864 the son of the late Perry and Elizabeth Ostrander, pioneer residents of Crawford county. He came here with his parents when he was a young man and this had been his home since except for a few years when he worked in Williamson.

Funeral services were held at the Grayling Funeral Home Sunday afternoon, Nov. 10, W. H. Kuhlman of Michelson Memorial church officiating. Miss Helene Babbitt and Mrs. Frank Gross sang two of the deceased's favorite hymns "Good Night and Good Morning" and "The Old Rugged Cross" during the service. Pallbearers were friends of long standing, George Annis, Charles Korwin, Chris King, Melvin Enck, Hugo Schrieber and Chris Hoesli. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery.

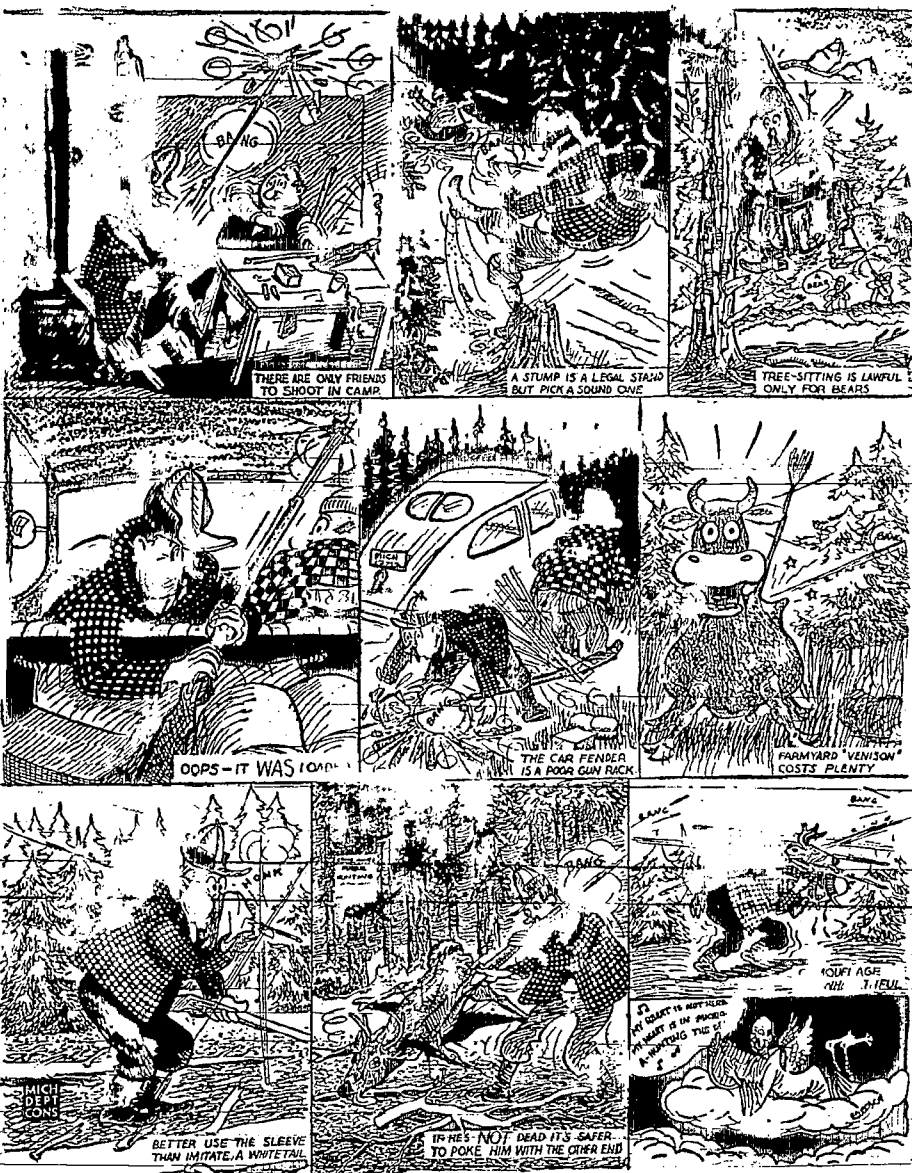

Besides his sister Mrs. Waldron the deceased is survived by four brothers, Elmer, Grayling, Arthur of Clarksville, Lewis, an attorney at Long Rapids and Charles of Roscommon. His sister Mrs. Effie Whipple preceded him in death several years ago.

Relatives from out of town attending the funeral were Mrs. Lee Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cripps, Frank Whipple and sister Mrs. Ida Teachout of Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Palmer, Atlanta; Attorney Lewis Ostrander and son Glenn of Long Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ostrander, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Scott, Roscommon; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Morgan, Mrs. Delbert Edwards and son of Cadillac.

The remaining members of the Ostrander family have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

Nine Little Lessons in How Not to Hunt Deer

There are only nine ways to shoot in camp. A stump is a legal stand but pick a sound one. Tree sitting is lawful only for bears. OOPS - IT WAS 10:00. THE CAR PENDER IS A GOOD HIDE. FARMYARD VISION COSTS PLenty.

Men 17 To 50 Wanted For U.S. Naval Reserve

TO BE KEPT ON ACTIVE DUTY ONLY FOR DURATION OF EMERGENCY

According to an announcement made this week in Washington by order of Secretary of the Navy Knox, "All men now enlisting in the Naval Reserve will be retained on active duty throughout the period of the national emergency, and they will be released to inactive duty as soon after the emergency as their services can be spared, regardless of the length of time remaining in their enlistment."

Enlistment in the U. S. Naval Reserve is for four years but, if a man enlists today and the emergency ends within a period of several months, he will be returned to his civilian job as soon as possible after the emergency is over, and will not be required to complete his four year term in active service.

Four classes of service in the United States Naval Reserve need men urgently today. They are Class V-3, which includes radio and communications; V-5, aviation; V-6, for trade specialists or men desiring trade or vocational training; V-7, fleet officers. A more detailed outline of each class follows below.

Men with specialized training in radio, searchlight and semaphore signaling or Morse telegraphy may be enrolled in Class V-3, the communications class of the Naval Reserve. These men will be enlisted as petty officers with ratings according to their degrees of proficiency. Pay for men enrolling in this group ranges from $80 a month for a petty officer third class to $99 a month for a chief petty officer. An additional allowance of $1.15 per day is made for men with dependents who have the rating of petty officer second class or higher.

A man with at least two years of college education who desires to enter naval aviation will be enlisted as a seaman second class in Class V-5 of the Naval Reserve. After a month's preliminary training the V-5 recruit will become a naval aviation cadet and will be sent for advanced training to one of the three principal naval flight training centers: Pensacola, Fla.; Jacksonville, Fla.; or Corpus Christi, Texas. On completion of this advanced course which requires approximately seven months, the V-5 cadet will be designated as a naval aviator and will be commissioned as an ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

During the first month of training, V-5 recruits are paid $88. On completion of the first month's training the V-5 recruit is designated as a naval aviation cadet and will be paid $75 a month, plus $1-per-day living expense.

Canoeing Down The Famous South Branch

(Taken from Bay City Times)

Arthur W. Stace of Ann Arbor, outdoor feature writer for the Booth syndicate of newspapers, has been writing articles on canoeing in Northern Michigan. The following article was taken from the Bay City Times. It tells an interesting story of the South Branch river, one of our country's famous trout streams, and we are sure our readers will enjoy reading it. This appeared in two installments in the Times and reads as follows:

GRAYLING-ON-AU SABLE—Grayling, sitting well to the top of the ridge dividing the watersheds of the Northern Uplands, offers canoe trips either down the AuSable river toward Lake Huron or down the Manistee toward Lake Michigan. And the trips may be short or long—half a day, a day, or all the way to the Big Sea Waters. It takes five to seven days to canoe from Grayling to Lake Huron at Oscoda with portages around half a dozen Consumers Power company dams. It takes as long, or a bit longer, to run the Manistee, with portages around two Consumers Power company hydro-electric stations.

The trip down the Middle Branch of the AuSable starts right in Grayling. We chose, however, for our autumn exploratory canoeing venture the picturesque South Branch of the AuSable. Our guide was Chris Hoesli, who, with Ernie Borchers, operates a canoe livery at Grayling that has served 4,000 persons during the present year. His assistant was Earl Mathewson.

We traveled 16 miles by auto, with the canoes on a trailer behind, through woods and clearings—mostly woods—to the Chase bridge. There, just below the summer estate of the late James Oliver Curwood and the holdings of the Bay City Hunting and Fishing club, we embarked on the wild, lonely

Red Cross Drive Opens

Arrangements are completed for the Red Cross membership drive. Districts have been assigned to a corps of workers who will make a house to house canvass. Have your membership dues ready so as to facilitate the work.

Remember, $750.00 is the quota for Crawford county. Some organizations have already indicated they will go over 100%.

Everyone should cooperate to the fullest extent with Chairman of Drive "Spike" MacNeven, and Mrs. C. G. Clippert, Chairman of Red Cross. The following workers will visit your home:

- District 1—Mrs. Alfred Hanson.
- District 2—Mrs. Charles Meisel.
- District 3—Mrs. Robert Hayes.
- District 4—Mrs. Augustus Funk.
- District 5—Miss Margrethe Bauman.
- District 6—Mrs. Donald Gothro.
- District 7—Mrs. Cecil Roberts.
- District 8—Mrs. Wilbur Simpson.

A Christian Move

In view of the present economic conditions and fuel problems, when "savings" must be considered by everyone, it seems to me that it would be a wise move for two or three congregations to unite for their services for the winter months. Our good neighbors of the Danish church could use Michelson Memorial church either in joining in our services or at some other hour while all the rooms are heated.

While the Danish congregation is without a pastor, we extend a most hearty invitation to this body to worship with us. This would be a wholesome example for us all and especially so during this present emergency.

Rev. H. W. Kuhlman.

Legionnaires Celebrate Armistice Day With Party

Members of the American Legion and Auxiliary celebrated Armistice Day with a dancing party at their hall Tuesday night. Each couple had the privilege of inviting a couple and there were some 100 persons present. They danced quadrilles and round dances to music furnished by Rood's orchestra and everybody had the time of their lives. At 11:00 o'clock the cannon roared commemorating Armistice day 23 years ago, when the World war ended. Lunch was served buffet style and before the crowd went to the dining room they sang "God Bless America." Those who were at the party are still talking about the good time they had.

Hunters Must Keep Record of Kill

"Don't fail to keep score!" the conservation department is reminding small game hunters, now in midseason, who must make a complete account of their total season kill on report cards to be returned by February 15, 1942, as required by law.

Information on the report cards, when tabulated on special machines in the department's game division, is helpful in determining bag limits, season lengths and other regulations for the next season. The information is available to hunters, who may determine from the records which hunting areas are most productive, and where to go to avoid areas of heaviest hunting pressure.

In asking early return of accurate reports, conservation department game men emphasize the fact that the service can be improved by more complete hunter cooperation in returning the game-kill cards. The cards are issued as part of the hunting license.

Held Special Services

The AuSable Valley Sunday School held special services last Sunday. Sixty-six neighbors and friends were in charge of Roy Noyes of Frederic, and Elders Allen Schreur and Elmer Parks of Gaylord assisted.

Opening song, "Precious Name" by congregation. Prayer by Elder Elmer Parks. Song, "Suffer Little Children" by the children.

Poem, "Blessing The Baby" by Rex Hunter.

Solo, "Jesus's Tender Care," by Margaret Laage.

Sermon, "The Blessing of Little Children, as Taught by the Master," by Elder Allen Schreur.

The following babies were blessed by Elders Allen Schreur and Elmer Parks: Judith Kay, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Carlson (Bertha Laage) of Roscommon; Marolyn, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dawson; and Julie, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hunter, all of this city.

Following the blessings a beautifully rendered Hawaiian guitar selection, "Nearer My God To Thee," was given by Patsy Stephan.

Closing song, "Give Me Thy Heart" by the congregation. Following the benediction the Sunday School met for various class work, after which a sumptuous dinner was served by the ladies.

The regular meeting place is at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Babbitt on the AuSable. Time: 10 a. m. Anyone wishing to attend this christian fellowship are welcome.

Miss Mary Schreur, a teacher at Petoskey, accompanied her father from Gaylord to the Sunday meeting.

Call On Grayling Winter Sports Members

A delegation of officials of East Michigan Winter Sports council and other interested persons came to Grayling Tuesday afternoon to wait upon the officers and directors of Grayling Winter Sports, Inc., with the idea of asking this city to become associated with the Council.

Represented on the delegation were Council President Moulthrop, financial chairman Richard H. Fletcher, Jr. of Bay City, Leo Babcock of West Branch, Bert Stowell of East Tawas and Dr. F. J. O'Donnell of Alpena.

President C. J. McNamara and several other local association members met the visiting committee and matters pertaining to differences were discussed. When the Council was organized last year, the Grayling association had its budget and advertising plans made and the officers did not feel that more money should be spent by the Association for promotion work.

A meeting of the Winter Sports council had been held in Standish early in October, which meeting was attended by C. J. McNamara, president of Grayling Winter Sports, Inc. He informed the Council that Grayling had their winter sports budget all planned for the season including their advertising and probably wouldn't be able to spend the money required for joining the Council this year.

The local association has already spent a large sum of money for advertising folders for this coming season and also for new and added equipment for the park. However those present pledged the sum of $100 to the Council and will work with them in every way possible.

At the meeting Mr. Babcock advocated that winter sports be confined to the usual accepted activities but should include the hunting of wildcats and other predatory animals for the protection of our wild life and for feeding deer during the periods of winter when food is scarce and hard to get.

Womans Club

The ladies of the club met Monday evening with Mrs. H. C. Schmidt with Miss Eva Dorr as co-hostess.

A quiz from "Time" was given the club, conducted by Mrs. A. K. Braidwood. Mrs. Braidwood also presented "News Film" on the development of the movie industry from 1902 to the present time, which was very interesting.

Explanation

Last week's edition mentioned about a certain "oil meter" that was purchased by the County Road Commission, which was listed in their report as having cost $303.22. It was the writer's contention that these meters cost about $21.00.

This set Lawrence Hunter, deputy county clerk, to investigating. It develops that this meter was furnished by the City of Grayling at the request of the Road Commission. It is used at the city oil storage tanks, in conformity with the wishes of Road Commission, to purchase such oil as it might need from the City, thus saving the expense of installing oil tanks and to be able to take advantage of the City's low-price contract with the producer. The oil is sold to the Road Commission at cost. In order to know how much oil the Road Commission used, the City Manager asked that the oil be measured by a meter, which would have to be paid for by the Road Commission. Both parties were fully agreed on the terms.

The meter was purchased by the City for $21.00, and that is the price charged the Commission. Mr. Hunter got a copy of the bill sent by the City department. It is as follows:

Fuel Oil Meter purchased from City of Grayling on Jan. 16, 1941 was installed in October or November, 1940.

Oil from Oct. or Nov., 1940 to Jan. 16, 1941, 1515 gals.	$68.17
1 Buffalo Meter	$21.00
1 Valve	1.35
1 Special Valve	4.13
1 Nipple	.65
1 Elb. for pipe	.35
1 Bushing	.10
1 Piece of pipe 1"x4"	.30
1 Reducer	.15
1 Union	.59
6 hrs. labor @ .45	2.70
2 hrs. labor @ .55	1.10
Freight	.95
Total cost	$101.64

This was entered as New equipment and installing. It may be noted that besides the charge of $21.00 made for the meter, there were several other items included in the bill. One of these items was for 1515 gallons of oil amounting to $68.17. This bill totals $101.64. Apparently these items were all charged as the oil meter.

While that total of $101.64 is far from the published figures of $303.22, Mr. Hunter was of the opinion that that discrepancy is due to errors in tabulation and computation.

THE NATURAL REACTION

The people who have signed petitions for a reduction in automobile weight taxes are getting somewhere. State highway contractors and lobbyists laughed at the circulators at first. Now the laughter is dying away and the highway machine is fearful-fearful to the point that they are telling county road commissioners that it is the county fight; that the state will continue to enjoy its present revenues and that the $14,000,000 reduction sought will all be taken out of the sums now returned to counties and cities.

Road commissioners and contractors have to play ball with the state highway department. If road commissioners get tough the state highway department can always withhold the state maintenance contract, and that has been done on numerous occasions. If road commissioners get too independent the state highway department can build its trunkline highways somewhere else. Instead of the people controlling the state agency, the people are controlled by a machine which has built a super-government, a bureau which is almost a law unto itself, an organization with a publicity machine, with a machine that builds political careers as well as highways, with a machine that forces county road commissioners to plead with their supervisors to help fight the action of the people.

Michigan had good roads before it was considered necessary to spend 65 million dollars a year. Michigan highway revenues did not exceed 50 million dollars until a year or two ago. Therefore we don't have to swallow the line that a reduction of 14 million is going to transform concrete highways into cow paths. The reaction of the highway lobby is the only natural reaction to be expected. Certainly the highway interests are opposing any reduction in revenues; and that only goes to prove that if taxes are ever to be reduced the people themselves will have to force the reduction. The politicians won't do it for us. Highway builders, makers of road equipment and men holding highway department offices won't offer to take less. The people will have to force the issue if taxes are to be reduced.—Ingham County News, Mason.

Kiwanis Club Notes

Guests of Conservation Training School

Last week Wednesday evening Grayling Kiwanians and their ladies were invited guests at the Conservation Commission Training school at Higgins Lake. This was the first time the club had met there and was the first time 90% of the members had ever been there, and probably half of them had never heard of the place before.

Well, everyone who attended was thrilled at the magnificence of the place, at its magnitude and the completeness and beauty of its furnishings.

Russell Martin, manager of the plant, and Mr. A. K. Broadwood, who is superintendent of construction of the camp buildings, and Mrs. Broadwood were there to welcome the guests and took special delight in escorting them about the grounds and various buildings.

And many of the Kiwanians are still talking about how good that fried chicken was, and how delicious the whole dinner was. And it was nicely served. Certainly Mr. Norris, the chef, and his assistants, know how to prepare food.

President Claude R. Keyport extended the hearty welcome for Grayling club and complimented Mr. Martin and Mr. Broadwood on the wonderful training camp, to which they have devoted so much of their time and their talents.

Mr. Martin explained the principles of the camp and the uses in which it will be employed. For many years past there had been a demand upon the Department for information and aid pertaining to outdoor matters. With their present equipment organizations and others may use this training school for their projects and studies. Now groups such as the Garden clubs, Audubon societies, naturalists and others find here just what they want.

Besides that particular section in which the camp is situated offers just about everything such groups could desire—all within close range. Also conservation officers come here for lectures and instructions.

We understand that there are 11 buildings in the plan of construction. Five of these already have been completed. At present the school will accommodate about 200 guests. As more dormitories are completed these accommodations will be increased. In the evening Mr. Martin showed the group some excellent colored pictures of Michigan wildlife. These were beautiful and interesting as well as informative. Most of these photos were taken by Mr. Martin personally. Certainly as a photographer he has proven his ability in a big way. Everyone there enjoyed the whole evening, and this marks one of the most enjoyable meetings of the Kiwanis during the past year.

This week's Kiwanis meeting was held at Shoppensons Inn, the usual meeting place. Mrs. Johanna Gorman, school nurse, was scheduled to address the meeting concerning school health matters. A health meeting held in Grand Rapids this week called her away. However, next week she will be back to fill her assignment.

Two fellow Kiwanians from Ann Arbor club were present. They were here for deer hunting. In the attendance contest, the team captained by Abe Joseph won. And H. W. Kuhlman's faithfuls were a close second by one margin and as a result will have to give the winning team members a dinner at Pine Ridge lodge soon at their expense. There was a lot of rivalry between the teams and was the means of increasing the club's attendance percentage.

Thomas Kent filed in the vacant time period by putting on a quiz contest. Charlie Moore gave the most correct answers and was the winner. But he didn't get a prize—"double of nothing".

The meeting next week will be on Wednesday evening instead of the noon hour, at the hotel. Postmaster James McDonnell and Postal Clerk Farnham Matson will captain the teams for the next month. Neither of these two men, according to President Claude Keyport, have anything else to do.

DEFENSE BOND

Quiz

Q. When will the "drive" to sell Defense Savings Bonds begin?

A. There will be no "drive." Many people think of the Defense Savings Program as like the first World War, which were conducted for stated periods to raise specific quotas. The Defense Savings Program is a long-range, continuing effort to stimulate the public to buy more and more Defense Bonds and Stamps month by month, and is essentially a program to promote mass saving, as well as to provide money for defense.

Q. Are the Defense Savings Bonds sold at retail stores exchangeable for Defense Savings Bonds?

A. Yes. They are the same as Stamps on sale at post offices and elsewhere.

Mildred Smith A Church Bride

Palms and arrangements of baby chrysanthemums formed the background for the wedding at 4 p. m. Saturday of Miss Mildred Lucille Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Smith, 610 Atwater, and Dwight Edward Garrison, son of Charles Garrison of Davenport, Ia. Rev. Irvin Otto read the service in the presence of 15 guests at Grace Lutheran church. Mrs. Richard Tharnton sang "I Love You Truly" accompanied at the organ by Fred Haas.

For her wedding Miss Smith wore a gown of moss green chiffon velvet with corresponding hat and accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and baby chrysanthemums, centered with gardenias.

Mrs. Frank Dorr of Hemlock, matron of honor and sister of the bride, was attired in a wine chiffon velvet frock with brown accessories. Her colonial bouquet was composed of Talisman roses and yellow baby chrysanthemums. Mr. Dorr was best man and Olson Smith of Saginaw and Clayton Olson of Grand Blanc seated the guests.

A dinner and reception for 60 guests followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dorr. Bouquets of chrysanthemums and roses adorned the tables. After a trip to South Dakota, Mr. and Mrs. Garrison will reside in Davenport, Ia.

The bride is a graduate of Saginaw high school and her husband of Flint Central high school. Parties complimenting the bride were given by Mrs. Dorr, Mrs. Ralph Pierce, Mrs. Thomas Kanary, Mrs. A. F. Knowles, Mrs. Albert Bull, Miss Eleanor Bull, women employees and bowling team of the Second National Bank and Trust Company and the bride's bridge club.

The Northern Lights

Visual Education

The Visual Education committee and the staff of the Grayling school wish to thank those who contributed to the success of the faculty play, "The Case of the Squealing Cat." The proceeds were sufficient to make up the balance of the January payment, which has already been forwarded.

Monday night Miss LaFave and Miss Woelmer opened the South Side school to children of that school and their parents. The weekly films were shown at that time.

Last week's films were studies on "Moths" and "Washington, D. C." The "Moth" film showed the entire life cycle of the silk and while marked tussock moths. The economic importance of these and other moths was stressed. The trip to Washington, D. C., via sound pictures was most interesting. The capital tour featured our nation's historic shrines and spots of world interest.

Red Cross

The annual Junior Red Cross roll call started in Crawford county on Nov. 11. The district end, the latter's father, Mr. Charles Dobler of Sterling, and also Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Davis of Fowlerville, parents of the former.

Carnival

Mr. Cornell is busily engaged in carrying out the plans for the annual athletic carnival Monday, Nov. 17. Dishes for the door prize an pig will be given to the lucky people.

Junior Play

The play books for the Junior play have been ordered and everyone is looking forward to another well coached play under the direction of Mr. Roberts.

Fourth Grade News

The children of the fourth grade are looking forward to the Athletic Association to give us a carnival.

The fourth grade has put 88c toward the Red Cross.

Some of the children of the fourth grade have bought saving stamps and some more plan to buy them.

We're All Americans

(By Patricia Chapman)

In recent months, we here in America have become country-conscious. That is, we play an important part in the many patriotic movements and programs that are being fostered in this country to make the people realize the absolute necessity of National Defense at this time.

These movements should be willingly and gladly accepted and supported by each and every citizen of these United States. So far, quite a bit of co-operation has been given by the American people. But this is to be expected, since we are all Americans. There seems to be a certain something, a strong-unbreakable bond between us all, that makes us proud to say "I am an American."

Is it the advantages offered us here—the fine schools, industries, amusements? No, it's the same strong principles that George Washington and his few starving soldiers fought to establish—the principle that would make this a free land—one of freedom of speech, religion and press. They gave us our honest right to the pursuit of happiness. They gave us a government that every American through the past two centuries has been able to love and support with a sincere, glad heart. They gave us the priceless, the invaluable—a government founded on principle, honor and brotherly love.

This is a land of beauty, of industry, of happiness where all creeds, colors, and walks of life, though flung apart in some way by these factors are one in the cause of their country. This is the land our forefathers dreamed of—a land where the great and unending song of "Let Freedom Ring" peals forth from every mountain top, from every city sky-scraper, ripples over every river and lake, whispers through every forest, murmurs with every stream. It's the smile that accompanies the words "Yes, I'm An American." It's the hope and design of every one of us, busy men and women, the aged and the young.

Every day a glorious golden sun rises and sets on America, the land of historical yesterdays, a today of opportunities, and a tomorrow of hope and dreams achieved.

These things must not, they can not be destroyed. We are not defending a blind cause then, nor are we gratifying one man's greedy desire for more power—we have something worth living for, fighting for—democracy, America.

"Paul Bunyan" Will Again Stride Along Roscommon Streets

Paul Bunyan will again stride the streets of Roscommon at a Paul Bunyan party to be sponsored being planned by the Tracy-Skocheles post of the Roscommon American Legion.

The party will be held on the main street and Paul will be present with his famous blue ox "Babe."

Members of the post will give the ox to one of the guests as one of the highlights of the celebration.

Proceeds from the event will go into a fund to remodel and redecorate the Legion building.

Members of the cast of characters for the affair are Jesse M. Green, who will be camp boss; Fred Baldwin as the renowned Paul Bunyan; C. J. Sheppard, Johnnie Inkslinger; Jack Howe, straw boss; Herman Bertl, Jr., bugler; Calvin Shaw, barn boy; Roy Fraser, chief swamper; and John Pearsall, canthook, master of ceremonies.

Features of the affair will be a parade through the community. A throne of cedar logs has been constructed and from this chair Paul will rule over the festivities.

A contest is under way for the best story or the biggest tale about Paul Bunyan or "Babe."

GRAYLING CELEBRATES VICTORY

Whistles And Bells Announce Signing of Armistice

The first news of the signing of the armistice was received at 1:30 a. m. Monday, November 11, at the Western Union Telegraph office and immediately Night Operator William Miller announced the fact to Marsenal M. Brenner who happened to be at the depot. The latter called up every mill in town and requested that the engineer blow the whistle at 6 o'clock. Next the pastors were asked to ring the church bells. After this was over Mr. Brenner called up a few prominent citizens and informed them of the news.

That afternoon was declared a holiday. As the crowds began to appear on the streets, the flags began to appear and soon the town was ablaze with Old Glory. The Grayling Citizens band played a concert. At the playing of the national anthem every head in that vast assembly was bared, and everyone stood at attention.

The evening was turned over to hilarity and everybody was out for a good time. The band played, and Main street was ablaze with red and colored lights and bonfires. As the band played boys and girls foxtrotted in the streets. There were firing of revolvers, and Roman candles and tooting and back-firing of autos.

The band, followed by a long procession, went to Mercy Hospital and played for the benefit of those confined there with illness.

The first Victory day celebration in Grayling is one that will long be remembered. The long struggle for the benefit of humanity was over. Peace was sitting upon the throne, the guilty must be punished and the thousands of innocents once more given a place in a world of democracy.

Tracy Nelson spent the latter part of the week visiting in Mason and Detroit.

Mrs. Oliver Cody left Tuesday night for a few days visit with friends in Bay City.

Mrs. Thomas Cassidy left Tuesday to spend a few days with relatives in Cheboygan.

Glenn Jr., the month-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Owens, passed away early yesterday morning after an attack of bronchial pneumonia, resulting from whooping cough.

Eleven new cases of influenza have been reported since last week Thursday, and four deaths—Miss Mary Atherton, Nevada Olson, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Olson; Mrs. Wm. Johnson and Miss Mary Cohen. There are still about forty cases in quarantine in the city.

Mrs. Nels Soderburg of Johannesburg, who had been a patient at Mercy Hospital for the past few weeks, suffering from a complication of diseases, passed away Thursday morning of last week. The remains were taken to her home in Johannesburg for burial Saturday. The Soderburg family were former residents of this city and are well known to many.

Mrs. William C. Johnson of du Pont avenue passed away at the Hotel Burton last Friday after a short illness of influenza and pneumonia. She was the mother of six children, the oldest of whom is Miss Idessa, who has been in training for a nurse at Mercy Hospital of this city. The Johnson family have resided on du Pont avenue for the past two years, moving here at that time from Maple Forest. Mrs. Johnson was 39 years old.

As we announced in last week's Avalanche the boxes for sending Christmas packages to soldiers in Europe had arrived. These packages when ready to send are to be inspected by members of the Red Cross who were appointed to do this work. Mrs. J. E. Crowley of this city has charge of inspecting the boxes for Grayling. Mr. J. A. Kalahar for Frederic; Mrs. T. E. Douglas for Lovells; and Mrs. B. J. Funsch for Eldorado. The packages must contain no explosives or perishables, and when filled must not weigh more than two pounds and fifteen ounces. The ounce lacking of making three pounds is for cord and wrapping. These boxes will be accepted by the Red Cross up to November 20th. It is necessary that they have a label on them that has been sent from Europe, otherwise they will not be accepted.

A letter received by Mr. and Mrs. Peter F. Jorgenson from their son Henning Jorgenson in France says that he is in a hospital with a leg wound, but that he is getting along nicely there was no cause for worry on his parents' part.

Marius Hanson, the local Buick agent, just delivered to Dr. Keyport a fine new Buick coupe. Claude Gilson drove it up from Saginaw.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Underhill of Lovells left last week for Charleston, Va., to enjoy a month's visit with relatives and friends. They expect to visit other Virginian cities before their return home.

The campaign for funds for the seven patriotic associations and the Red Cross is progressing satisfactorily. There is still a considerable amount of money to be raised and those who have not pledged are requested to do so with Harry Simpson or Postmaster Holger F. Peterson at once.

The first snow storm that was sufficient to whiten the ground, appeared Wednesday forenoon. It didn't remain long. A year ago we were having real winter weather and plenty of snow.

Many people of this vicinity have an opinion that the season for killing deer in Crawford county is not closed, due to the fact that closing of the season was not advertised thirty days prior to the time that the season would open. The Avalanche in its issues of October 3 and 10 published a notice sent to the game wardens about the state saying that the deer season would be closed in certain counties, among which was Crawford county. Several from this vicinity were inclined to hunt and a party of Lansing hunters arrived Saturday to hunt in Crawford county. These acts led to an investigation and in conclusion we publish an official message from the State Game department which is as follows: "Notice closing deer season published by you October third sufficient." Signed: John Baird, Commr.

Mrs. Carl Collen and two children of, Alaska, have been in Grayling for several weeks visiting Mrs. J. J. Collen and family. They will remain here for some time longer, as Mr. Collen expects to come for a visit, and to accompany his family home.

United States of America In The District Court of The United States For The Eastern District of Michigan

North Division
United States of America, Petitioner, vs. 80 Acres of Land in Crawford County, Michigan, Harvey I. Nedea, et al., Defendants.

At a session of said Court held in the District Courtroom of the Federal Building in the City of Bay City, on the 28th day of October, A. D. 1941.

Present: Honorable Arthur J. Tuttle, United States District Judge.

On this date it appearing to the Court from examination of the files and records in the above entitled cause, that the following and all other persons not particularly named made respondents in the petition filed in this cause as having or claiming, or appearing to have or claim, some or any interest whatsoever in the land affected by this suit: Harvey I. Nedea, Jefferson Street at Webster, Muskegon, Michigan; Minnie K. Nedea, Jefferson Street at Webster, Muskegon, Michigan; Porter Chadwick, Detroit, Michigan; Henry Finkelstein, Bad Axe, Michigan; Sonie Finkelstein, Bad Axe, Michigan; Detroit Creamery Company, a Michigan Corporation, 3333 Grand River, Detroit, Michigan; County Treasurer, Crawford County, Michigan, Grayling, Michigan; Grayling Township Treasurer, Crawford County, Grayling, Michigan; Aurora General of Michigan, Lansing, Michigan; and if living or if deceased, their several heirs, representatives, successors and assigns, known and unknown.

That the real estate in this cause is described as follows: North One-half (1/2) of Southwest Quarter (1/4) of Section Twenty-two (22) Township 26 North, Range 2 West. That the above described land is situated in the County of Crawford, State of Michigan, and is subject to all and any reservations, exceptions, and easements set forth in the petition filed in this Court and cause; and It further appearing to the Court that there may be persons, firms, and corporations, respondents to this suit, whose names and addresses are not known to the petitioner; and It further appearing to the Court that some of the aforementioned respondents have been since the commencement of this suit, and are now absent from this District and cannot be found within said District; and It further appearing to this Court that upon diligent search and inquiry it is and will be impossible to find some of the above named respondents to serve them personally in the manner provided by statute, and that they have not voluntarily appeared in said cause, on motion of John W. Babcock, attorney for the petitioner.

It is Ordered, that said respondents, they and each of them, and all other persons whatsoever, having or claiming, or appearing to have or claim, some or any interest in any of the above mentioned land affected by said petition, appear before this Court in its Courtroom aforementioned, on the 26th day of January, A. D. 1942, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, and then and there show cause why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted; and It is Further Ordered that service of this order be made on said respondents by publication of a copy hereof to be made at least six successive weeks, at least once in each week in the Crawford Avalanche, a newspaper published in Crawford County in said District, the last publication thereof to be made at least six days before the day hereinbefore fixed for the appearance of said respondents.

Arthur J. Tuttle, United States District Judge.

John C. Lehr, United States Attorney.

John W. Babcock, Assistant United States Attorney.

THURSDAY, NOV. 13, 1941

The Lutheran Junior Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. A. J. Nelson this evening (Thursday). Miss Fern Armstrong enjoyed a vacation from her duties at the Grayling Mercantile Co. last week.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Parks of Vanderbilt at Mercy Hospital Wednesday morning.

Nylon Hose for women; all sizes at $1.50, at Olson's.

Miss Mildred Hanson entertained the "Just Us" club at her home Tuesday evening. Cards were enjoyed.

This is the time to order Christmas Greetings. As usual we have a very beautiful line. Avalanche office.

Don't miss the school carnival next Monday night. Hubbell's Hobby House is closed for the winter. Will reopen May 1, 1942.

Clarence Johnson was in Bay City on Armistice Day attending a reunion of the Company he was a member of during the World War.

The Girl Scouts are having a bake sale at Comins's Grocery on Nov. 22 from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. It is to earn money for badges.

McGregor sweaters are all 100% virgin wool. See them at Olson's.

If you would like some nice fancy work for Christmas gifts, visit the sale at the Grayling Restaurant Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Buy your rubber footwear now and avoid disappointment—and higher prices. Buy Ball-Band rubbers, at Olson's.

Highways are heavy with travel. Take it easy, driver.

Hoeger-Peterson has purchased a 1942 Ford Super Deluxe for George Burke.

Editor Al Weber of the Cheboygan Observer has been quite ill. But, fortunately, he seems to be coming back strong.

St. Mary's Altar society will meet on Tuesday, Nov. 18th, at the parish hall instead of the regular date on the 20th, owing to Thanksgiving coming on that day. The lunch will be pot luck.

Jack and Jean Rasmussen, twins, celebrated their 12th birthday Tuesday, Nov. 4th and each one had a few friends in after school. A birthday cake centered the lunch table holding 12 candles.

Roberta Redhead, who left Tuesday with her parents to reside in Lakewood, Ohio, was given a farewell party by the pupils of the 8th grade one evening last week. The party was held at the school.

Richard Dawson returned home Wednesday of last week from University Hospital, Ann Arbor, and is recuperating nicely from an operation performed there. His friends will be glad when he will be able to be back in school.

T. W. Hanson writes from San Antonio, Texas: "Here is hoping you go over the top and then some. Enter my subscription for a five dollar membership (Crawford County Red Cross) for which am mailing you check. Best of luck."

We look for a shortage in rubber footwear. Get yours now at Olson's.

A sale of fancy work will be held at the Grayling Restaurant Saturday afternoon beginning at 2:00 o'clock, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. This is work done by the disabled veterans in the American Legion hospital at Battle Creek.

Private Paul J. Ostrander, of the Headquarters Battery, now in Camp Davis, N. C., will soon be released from the army and transferred to the Enlisted Reserve Corps. His release is provided by the recent clause providing for such release of men over 28 years of age.

Three to 8 dollar women's shoes for $1.94 on Olson's Bargain rack.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Newton, who have erected some overnight cabins on US-27 across from Camp Higgins, have moved to Roscommon from Clifford. They sold their farm property in Clifford, where they have been for several years, returning north to reside. Grayling was the girlhood home of Mrs. Newton, who was formerly Agnes Rasmussen.

Twins, a boy and a girl, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Owen (Anna Christianson) Friday at Mercy Hospital. Conrad weighed four pounds and 14 ounces and his sister Constance four pounds and 11 ounces. Mrs. Conrad Sorenson and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Owens are the proud grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Paul LaBrash great grandparents.

Hospital Aid meeting Thursday, November 13, at 3:15 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Alfred Sorenson.

So many Crawford county ladies have enrolled for the Home Nursing course that Mrs. A. J. Joseph and Mrs. Russell Robertson are considering dividing the class into two groups. Mrs. Robertson is attending the nurse convention in Grand Rapids this week but on her return the classes will again be conducted. Members will be notified as to date of meeting.

Frederic school presented a special Armistice day program Tuesday. At the 11:00 o'clock hour taps were sounded and there was the customary one minute of silence. Their splendid uniformed school band played a number of selections after which Judge Charles E. Moore of Grayling gave an appropriate armistice address.

Buying footwear now is a good investment. For the best, go to Olson's.

After seven years service as caretakers for the I. B. Smith II. Subalpine lodge, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Redhead and family left Monday for Lakewood, Ohio to make their home. The people of Grayling will be sorry to lose this fine family. Jack will assume a former position as salesman for the Sugar Service Associates. Their address will be 2008 Elbur Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Marion Burch have taken over the position at Smith's.

The Home Extension Group No. 3 met at the home of Mrs. Oscar Goss on Wednesday, Nov. 5th. Mrs. Leo Jorgensen and Mrs. Lillian Ryan presented an interesting lesson on "Care of the Kitchen." The lesson included recipes for home made cleaners of various kinds, some of which were tried and proved more effective and cheaper than commercial cleaners. Mrs. Wm. Heric and Mrs. Eugene Papendick were hostesses.

New silk hose, 85c and $1.15, at Olson's.

Miss Anna Nielsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Nielsen, is at St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids nursing injuries received in an auto accident Saturday night. Miss Nielsen, driving her car, was struck by a car at a stop street when the driver failed to stop. She suffered a broken leg and other injuries and Miss Mabel Richmond, who was riding with her, received a bad cut in one of her knees. The family did not learn of the accident until Tuesday and Miss Olga Nielsen left immediately for Grand Rapids to be at her sister's bedside, expecting to remain for a few days.

Russell Coulter has rented a building across from the court house for a residence and an office for his painting and paper hanging business. He also is dealing in marbledized products, in company with John Cowell.

Parents pay out a lot of money to give their children college educations. A boy gets this in the U. S. Navy without cost and is paid a salary besides. This is certainly a fine opportunity for intelligent boys who cannot afford to go to college at their own expense. A book on the U. S. Navy may be had by calling at the Avalanche Office.

The public is invited to hear the acapella choir of Mt. Pleasant who will be in Grayling on Friday, Nov. 21st at Michelson Memorial church to give one of its high class concerts. The program will begin at 7:00 o'clock and there will be no admission fee, however, a free-will offering will be taken to defray expenses. There are 60 voices in the chorus. This worthwhile entertainment is brought to Grayling under the auspices of the Woman's Club.

New handbags for Fall at $1.00 and $1.39, at Olson's.

Don Koivune is home from Camp Forrest, Tenn. after serving 8 months in the infantry. He came under the new ruling of being over the 28 year age limit and so was released, however, he is still on reserve. He says he liked army life very well and learned a lot about it in the time he was gone. Best of all he was released with an excellent rating.

Francis Wilcox of Maple Forest is also home, released on the 28 age limit, and Paul Ostrander, Grayling.

Law Caught Up With Hit And Run Driver

Charles Strejcek of Roscommon paid a fine of $50.00 and $9.55 costs for leaving the scene of an accident, when his auto struck Arthur Kretschmer of Detroit on August 12, 1940. This accident occurred on US-27 and Michigan Ave. here in the city. The license number was taken at the time by a Civilian Conservation Corps enrollee and was traced to this subject. He was apprehended near Higgins lake Wednesday.

WHAT VITAMINS CANNOT DO

With many speakers arousing themselves by a campaign to make vitamins the answer to all our problems, the time seems to have arrived to consider more calmly what vitamins can do and what they cannot do.

Mr. Paul V. McNutt, administrator of many of our Federal Bureaus, including the Public Health Service, said recently, "Stamina, intelligence, judgment, will, stability may have their roots in vitamin-unbalanced diets and can be treated through clinically determinable doses of synthetic vitamins."

These qualities of character are highly desirable, but facts are lacking to support the statements. Then, too, Dr. Thomas Parran, Chief of the U. S. Public Health Service, has said that less than one-fourth of us are getting a good diet. Here, again, facts are lacking to substantiate an opinion of widespread vitamin deficiency.

From a scientific standpoint, modesty compels us to admit that we do not have all the facts concerning the lack of vitamins in the general population. It is established, however, that medicinal vitamins are not necessary for three-fourths of the population.

There are a number of things which vitamins cannot do. For instance, they cannot give the rest which is needed every night by a great many Americans. Vitamins cannot abolish fatigue which follows the expenditure of tremendous amounts of nervous and emotional energy. Vitamin tablets cannot abolish chicanery, they cannot do away with greed, jealousy, and give us the ability to understand and sympathize with other people's viewpoint.

Vitamin tablets cannot reduce high blood pressure, or abolish the minor infections of the nose and throat and teeth, which so commonly cause rheumatism and other disabling diseases. The use of vitamins cannot prevent syphilis, tuberculosis, or clear the urine of sugar in diabetes, nor take the place of iron, calcium, iodine and the protein of meat, milk, eggs and cereal in the diet.

We have used vitamin supplements for many years. For instance, feeding infants orange juice and cod liver oil is now the accepted standard procedure to fortify the diet of a baby until his teeth appear and solid foods may be taken. In patients with fever, fruit juices, milk, meat broth, soft-boiled eggs supplement the food intake.

There remains, of course, a large number of conditions in which vitamin supplements still seem necessary. For instance, in alcoholism, gastric and intestinal conditions, such as ulcer, gastritis, and cancer, where gastric function and assimilation are at a low ebb, in liver disease when storage facilities of the body are depleted and in neuritis and other nervous conditions in which the appetite has yielded to emotional difficulties, the vitamin supplements in the form of tablets are an accepted essential part of the management.

To place three-fourths of the people on synthetic vitamins in order to improve their character and eliminate organic diseases seems somewhat out of line with generally accepted scientific methods.

Stay Out of Bomb Shelters

Something different in bomb shelters is being planned by the Michigan State Police and the Michigan Department of Health for their crime detection laboratory at Lansing. Instead of being inside the shelter, the people it is intended to protect will be outside. The bombs will be inside.

"Suspicious packages believed to be time bombs of saboteurs and other criminals can be put in the bomb shelter under a sort of quarantine," says Dr. H. Allen Moyer, State Health Commissioner. "And for examining packages before opening them, the shelter will be wired for x-ray equipment."

The bomb shelter will be half buried in the ground and will have thick walls and a light roof, to give a quick release upward in case of an explosion.

When the law establishing it becomes effective in January, the state's crime detection laboratory will give services free to police, sheriff's departments and other law enforcement officers all over the state. Dr. C. W. Muehlberg, director of the laboratory, was formerly Chicago's official bomb opener and toxicologist.

Increase In Deer Kill Predicted

Printing of 5,000 additional deer camp permits to take care of the demand for licenses that may be filled by taking either a buck or a doe marks the eve of Michigan's 1941 deer season, the first in 20 years in which the killing of doe deer is legal. Several thousand 1941 camp permits already have been distributed, where last year the conservation department sold only 703.

Many camps in the deer territory were open early, and there was no clear indication in the pre-season northward movement that the number of hunters in the woods would be greatly different from the 177,759 who bought deer hunting licenses last year. These hunters last season killed 51,713 bucks, nearly 800 bears.

In the bow and arrow season ending tomorrow, archers made Michigan hunting history by killing a bear with arrows near Roscommon, and by killing the first doe legally hunted and shot in Michigan in two decades, for a camp deer, near Baldwin.

After the big season November 15-30, those of the 500 Allean lottery winners with licenses still unfilled will take their guns to central Allean county December 1-10 for Michigan's first all-antlerless deer season, designed to reduce a herd now a nuisance to agriculture.

BUYS $100.00 WORTH OF WINDSTORM PROTECTION FOR ONE YEAR!

"Destructive windstorms occur in Michigan every week in the year; no section of Michigan is immune. As the result of a single windstorm (November 11, 1940), State Mutual Cyclone Insurance Company's policyholders collected over $500,000. Be sure today that you'll be protected tomorrow. Insure, now, with State Mutual. 15c buys $100 worth of windstorm protection for one year."

Had Exciting Fire

The Wm. Fowler farm home was saved from burning Monday morning by quick thought, action and response of friends, neighbors, the Roscommon fire department and the conservation department.

Due to lack of wind for the windmill, there was a shortage of water and Bernard was after his third 10 gallons at the Gus Funk farm when Mrs. Fowler went upstairs to remove more clothes from the line preparatory to doing another big washing and discovered smoke rolling in the hall and two south bed rooms. She went back downstairs and quietly told her sister-in-law Miss Georgia Fowler, that the house was on fire and to start after Bernard. It was over 15 minutes before Mr. Fowler, who has been bed ridden, knew there was a fire.

Mrs. Fowler used the fire extinguisher and salt in both dining room and kitchen stoves, got pails of water and dipper ready. When Bernard returned he went into the attic and found no flames but dense smoke and a chimney so hot he could hardly get near it. He managed to get one pail of water around the chimney but was driven back by smoke. Miss Fowler had hailed a truck and two men arrived but could do nothing inside so put a ladder up and worked on the roof.

Mrs. Fowler left Mr. Fowler in care of his sister and drove to Sid Dyer's home to call help, calling Bill Dusenbury and Alva Scott on the way. Mrs. Dyer called the Conservation department and Dr. Hammond. Two men returned with her from Dyer's.

Mrs. Fowler then took charge of the sick room as the men had kept the fire confined to the chimney in spite of the intense heat.

The Roscommon fire truck arrived shortly with Chas. Stalnak of the Conservation department. The fire was put under control, the chimney from attic floor to roof cemented by Mr. Stalnak and a very thorough inspection made of the chimney, stoves, pipes, and rooms to insure no further trouble. They waited until fires were built in the stoves and all was safe. Fire Chief Geister and two helpers remained for over half an hour to be sure the heated walls didn't burst out, then left a huge hand extinguisher in case any trouble started. Dr. and Mrs. Hammond came in case it was necessary to remove Mr. Fowler from the house. Chief Geister said that prompt action on discovery saved the home. The fire came as a complete surprise, as a man had checked and cleaned the chimney just one week ago.

Because of danger in using water to wash, Chief Geister made arrangements with Mrs. Jack Clark of Roscommon, a friend of the Fowlers, to take care of the big sick room washing, sent a car after Jeanne at school and then took the washing to Roscommon.

The Fowlers are indeed thankful to all who so generously helped save their home and who worked so well that only a few water spots show on ceiling and wall of two rooms.

Maple Forest

CANOEING DOWN THE FAMOUS SOUTH BRANCH

stretch of the river reaching northeastward to the main stream.

Far From Turmoil

Around the first bend we find ourselves seemingly hundreds of miles away from civilization and all its turmoils and complexities. We are back to nature in the rough. We hear only the sounds of the wilderness, we see only its sights. We speed silently down an avenue of cedars, then past a cathedral of spiring balsams. White birches mass against the banks, with tall white pines on the ridge above them. There are aspen thickets. Bronze oaks give a touch of color to the autumn woods. So do the tamaracks which have turned a greenish yellow in place of their summer green. The ground carpet is of many hues.

This would be a magnificent Christmas scene, with balsams, spruces, pines "decked" heavily with snow and ice glistening along the river banks.

We see beaver houses and poplar trees the beavers have cut down. And one tree they have not yet finished felling.

Pines And Porcupines

We see great white pines, that are bare at the top.

"That's the work of porcupines," explains Earl Mathewson. "They seem to like the tender tops of the white pines and do great damage among them."

There are many large pines, white and red, along the South Branch. They were probably too small to cut or to hard to get out when the loggers passed that way. Put together they would make an impressive forest.

Frequently we come to gurgling, murmuring waters crowding around the ends of submerged logs lying diagonally part way across the stream.

That's part of the stream improvement work done by the CCC boys, the guides explain. This work is designed to improve fish habitat conditions and to control the flow of water.

This part of the South Branch runs through wilderness. There are few camps or human habitations. But we came upon one impressive clearing. "Cliff Durrant's castle," the guides call it. But it is a castle no more—only a heap of ruins, left by fire. One part remains, a spring house of stone, to give an idea of how impressive the "castle" may have been.

GRAYLING-ON-AU SABLE. "What are our chances of seeing deer?" we asked our guides Chris Hoelsi and Earl Mathewson as our canoes swept swiftly, silently down the colorful South Branch of the AuSable.

"We often see deer along the river in the spring and summer, but not at this season of the year," they answered. "The deer at this time in the autumn are up on the hills feasting on acorns. They come back to the river jungles when the guns begin to bark in the deer hunting season."

That was disappointing, and Eck Stanger, who was in the bow of the first canoe, with his camera poised, ready for a shot at anything unusual, relaxed a bit.

Softly and soundlessly we rounded a bend. One of the men in the first canoe suddenly pointed to the bank. His lips formed the word "deer." We looked, but the deer already had disappeared.

Farther on, while we were still taut, we were brought to tense attention. Two large deer—both does—had come swiftly over the rim of the high bank, and were slanting on the run toward the river at a point just ahead. They had been startled, possibly by the bang of the gun of a partidge hunter, and they did not notice us.

Rare Camera Shot

Into the river plunged the first doe, and then she saw us. She stopped still for a quick look at us, then plunged in great leaps across the river, sending the water flying in a screen of white spray. The second doe followed. They splashed and flashed across the river almost too fast for the eye to follow, bounded up the bank, and vanished into the low-lands jungle for which they were headed.

Eck pressed the trigger. Here was one picture in a thousand he wanted to get. He had been waiting for it on this and other trips. But the camera wasn't in sharp focus, the canoe was wobbling. The resulting picture, when it developed, showed only the spray flying around the first deer and the outline of the second deer plunging into the river. It wasn't a picture that could be reproduced in a newspaper by the half-tone process.

"In 35 years on the AuSable I haven't seen deer cross the stream like that at this time of the year," said Chris Hoelsi. That remark intensified Eck's disappointment when the photograph was developed.

Trip was Typical

We stopped for lunch at a spring at Downey's one of the several summer places on this stretch of the South Branch. All too soon we came to Dogtown, which is only a name and a shelving shore near a woodland trail. There, promptly at the hour set, we were met by Chris Hoelsi's son with auto and trailer, and in a few minutes were on our way back to Grayling.

The exploratory canoeing venture was ended, and it left us enthusiastic for more—when spring comes around again.

The trips described in these articles are but typical of what may be had now on various Michigan streams with organized guide service. On the AuSable they have long been taken in the so-called AuSable boats, flat-bottomed and pointed, designed to be poled as well as paddled. Now canoes are coming into their own.

So important is serviced canoeing becoming, that the tourist associations—Eastern Michigan and Western Michigan—are devoting special literature to them. The East Michigan association lists organized canoeing services on the Rifle, AuSable, Manistee, and Thunder Bay river, and its Inland Route chain of rivers and lakes from near Petoskey to Cheboygan. "Bring your own canoe" trips are listed for the Chub chain of lakes near Gaylord, and a circle canoe trip near Gladwin on Cedar and Tobacco rivers to Lake Wixom, and thence up the Tittabawassee to within six miles of the starting point.

The West Michigan Tourist Association has issued a booklet, entitled "Canoe Trails," which lists serviced canoeing—with rented canoe and guide—on the Jordan, Muskegon, Big Manistee, and Kalamazoo rivers, intermediate chain of lakes, and the Inland Route. It lists for those who bring their own canoes, the St. Joseph, Boardman, Platte, Paw-Paw, Pere-Marquette, Little Manistee, Pine, Thornapple, and Grand rivers.

Serviced canoeing offers trips for fishing and fun in the spring and summer, for hunting in the fall, and for nature study and pleasure in all three seasons.

MEN 17 TO 50 WANTED FOR U. S. NAVAL RESERVE

Upon commission as an ensign his pay will be increased to approximately $245 a month, and in addition he will receive regular pay bonuses of $500 for each year he serves in active duty after the training period.

Class V-6 in the U. S. Naval Reserve offers opportunities for men with specialized training to continue their trades and at the same time serve their country. This group includes specialists of any kind, such as electricians, carpenters, machinists, stenographers, accountants, plumbers, cooks, bakers and many other trades and vocations. These men will upon enlistment be given ratings in accordance with the amount of previous specialized training they have had.

Men with no previous specialized training will be enlisted in Class V-6 as apprentice seamen with pay of $21 a month. Directly following enlistment the new recruit will be sent to one of the four Naval Training Stations for a short period. At the Training Station the apprentice seaman will be given an aptitude test and if he passes this test successfully he will be sent to a Navy Trade School. Approximately 5500 men are admitted to Navy Trade Schools each month. This schooling, valued at hundreds of dollars, is free and the seamen receive their regular Navy pay while receiving instructions.

Those applicants who do not pass the tests for admission to Navy Trade school will be sent to duty aboard ship where an opportunity will be given them to train in a trade. Four months after enlistment all non-specialized applicants in Class V-6 will be advanced automatically to seaman, second class with a pay increase to $36 a month.

Men with previous specialized training of any kind will be enlisted in the Naval Reserve Class V-6 with petty officer ratings and will be sent immediately to the ship or shore station where they are needed.

College graduates who desire engineering or deck duty as officers in the U. S. Naval Reserve will be enlisted as Midshipmen, Class 7. Upon completion of a four months' training course these men will be commissioned ensigns in the Naval Reserve. During the training period, Midshipmen are paid $65 a month. As ensigns with commissions the pay will be approximately $148 a month with an additional allowance of $40 a month if they are married.

All applicants for the U. S. Naval Reserve must be native-born citizens of the United States with the exception of candidates for Class V-5 who must have been United States citizens for a period of at least ten years.

Detailed information with regard to enlistment in any class of the U. S. Naval Reserve may be secured by writing to or calling at your nearest regional Navy Recruiting Station.

"NAVY INTELLIGENCE"

How does the U. S. Navy and the Naval Reserve decide what types of work a recruit is best fitted for? Before being assigned to duties, recruits are given the O'Rourke Classification Test which reveals their individual talents.

Who are the Staff Officers in the U. S. Navy? There are four staff officer corps in the Navy. They are: Medical Officers, Dental Officers, Supply Officers and Chaplains.

Is there such a thing as shore duty in the Navy? Yes, but in most instances men are not assigned to shore duty unless they have been in the Service for six (6) years.

What is the "Medal of Honor" that is given to sailors in the U. S. Navy? It is the highest individual award an enlisted man can receive. It is awarded by the President of the United States to the man who, in action involving actual conflict with the enemy, distinguishes himself conspicuously by gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of his own life.

If I have some specialized training must I serve as an apprentice seaman if I enlist in the U. S. Naval Reserve? No. Any man with previous specialized training will be enlisted in a Special Naval Reserve Class and will receive petty officer's rating and pay.

Is there any insurance available to sailors in the United States Navy? Yes, Government insurance policies up to $10,000 are available to enlisted men.

What happens if a sailor in the U. S. Navy gets sick? There is a "dispensary" at every station manned by Medical Officers who give complete and efficient aid to anyone who is feeling ill.

Do seamen in the U. S. Naval Reserve receive the same pay, food, entertainment, free medical and dental care, have the same opportunities for advancement and for training in skilled jobs as the seamen in the regular Navy?

Does the sailor in the U. S. Naval Reserve wear a different uniform from that worn by regular Navy sailors? No, there is no difference in the uniform worn by the Naval Reserve and that worn by the regular Navy seamen.

What are P.T. boats? P.T. designates the new type major torpedo boats built in three experimental sizes, 60 feet, 81 feet, and 110 feet. These boats are capable of speeds in excess of 50 miles per hour and carry two or more torpedo tubes, depth charges, smoke-screen apparatus, and rapid fire anti-aircraft guns. These boats have not yet been incorporated into the fighting fleet in any great number.
